Town of Lake City:

I am interested to be considered for re-appointment to the Lake City Historic Preservation Commission (HPC). I live within the Town's National Historic District and own a contributing commercial building and business within the district. As a member and often chairperson of the HPC for much of the past decade, I have invested considerable time in learning about historic preservation throughout the US and how it can best be applied locally in the town of Lake City. Just now the Town's website is being updated with revised general historic preservation information and specific HPC related pages and I would like to see that completed. It has been an educational and public service pleasure in trying to serve the Town's best interests in this capacity.

Sincerely,

Joseph L. Fox
