Gmail Alexander Mulhall <townmanager@townoflakecity.co>

Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code Adoption and Future Funding

Hlavac - DOLA, Dana <dana.hlavac@state.co.us> Wed, Oct 7, 2026 at 8:53 AM
To: Alexander Mulhall <townmanager@townoflakecity.co>

Hi Lex,

I hope you're doing well, too. Regarding the adoption of the Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code, failure to adopt this legally required code does not trigger a blanket loss of state funding, but it may jeopardize grants requiring compliance with state law. There is no automatic loss of severance tax or federal mineral lease direct distributions. However, note that all our contracts include a clause where the town certifies compliance with all state laws, although we lack the resources to verify that against every statute.

Appreciatively,

Dana P. Hlavac
Northwest Regional Manager
COLORADO
Department of Local Affairs
Division of Local Government

P 970-903-0230
Dana.Hlavac@state.co.us | dlg.colorado.gov
*Learn more about why my pronouns are displayed here

Sign up for the DLG newsletter using this link

[Quoted text hidden]