35. Historical background:

Deputy Hinsdale County Clerk & Recorder J.N. Angier spent $600 building this 20' x 30' squared-log cabin in 1877. Assessment records show the cabin as being "west of Bluff" in what was to become Casco Addition to the Town of Lake City. The cabin was briefly owned by attorney William R. Kennedy who represented the 23rd District, comprising Rio Grande and Hinsdale Counties, at the Colorado Constitutional Convention in Denver from December, 1875, to March, 1876.

Jennie (Farrington) Abbott, wife of J. J. Abbott, acquired the cabin in 1880 and owned it until 1917, using the property as housekeeping quarters for the Abbott family servants and, later, as a rental. It was probably during the Abbott ownership that the log cabin was covered with clapboards. The house narrowly escaped burning in the April, 1967, fire which destroyed the neighboring Hoffman and Cummings cabin.

A rear addition to the south of the original structure in 1982, together with native rock veneer chimney, was completed when the house was owned by Charles Peeler and prior to its sale to the current owner, Susan Lamphear Hagen.

38. Applicable National Register Criteria:

- A. Associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad pattern of our history;
- B. Associated with the lives of persons significant in our past;
- C. Embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or represents the work of a master, or that possesses high artistic values, or represents a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction; or
- D. Has yielded, or may be likely to yield, information important in history or prehistory
- Qualifies under Criteria Considerations A through G
- Does not meet any of the above National Register criteria

39. Area(s) of significance: Social history, architecture

40. Period of significance: 1877 -1904

41. Level of significance: National  State  Local

42. Statement of significance:

This house is associated with settlement and development of Lake City during the late 1800s mining era. It is a slightly altered, representative of the vernacular dwellings constructed in Lake City during this period, as reflected in its simple design, clapboard siding, gabled roof, porch, double hung windows, and lack of architectural details that indicate a particular style.

43. Assessment of historic physical integrity to significance:

The architectural integrity of this dwelling is intact, as evidenced by minimal alterations to its character-defining features. The 1985 addition is of similar scale, roof form, and exterior materials as the original dwelling. The addition is also set back from the original dwelling.
